

FEVER SPREADS IN THE SOUTH

There Are Now Fifty-Four Cases In New Orleans Alone, And Number Increasing.

MORE POWER GIVEN HEALTH BOARDS

Authorized to Enforce Sanitary Conditions And Hygienic Measures Will Be Broadened Considerably.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-MORAN.]

New Orleans, La., Aug. 4.—Fifty-four new cases and five deaths from yellow fever were reported Thursday. The health authorities are much encouraged in spite of the increase in new cases, as the deaths have grown fewer and a number of patients are recovering.

With a view to inaugurating a more thorough cleaning movement and strengthening the fight of the health authorities against the mosquito, Mayor Behrman called a conference of physicians and health officers. Committees were appointed to carry out the plans for sanitary and drainage work.

One of the good results that is expected to follow from the present epidemic will be a vast extension of the powers now lodged in the board of health in the matter of enforcing sanitary and hygienic measures.

To Clean Italian District.

The Italian district has been a rich field for the planting of epidemic diseases, and there is a strong demand that laws be passed to revolutionize these conditions. It is not improbable, also, that the movements of Italian immigrants here on a large scale will suffer.

A dispatch was received from Alexandria announcing the appearance of a case of yellow fever there. Rapid measures have been taken, and it was thought that none of the fugitive Italians would be able to pass the cordon of guards with which the parish was surrounded. The Alexandria case was traced to New Orleans.

The town has bottled itself up, but in order to save the parish from starvation it will permit the running of a thoroughly fumigated train three times a week to bring in provisions.

Refugees Are Isolated.

Dr. C. M. Brady returned from Lake Providence, La., on the Mississippi river, in north Louisiana, bringing information that the Italians who invaded that section have been completely isolated and are under constant observation. The case of yellow fever there is carefully guarded.

HARVEY CLARK MADE THE SUPERINTENDENT

Will Have Charge of the State Institute for the Blind Near This City.

Acting-governor Davidson yesterday appointed all the members of the board of control to succeed themselves, except Harvey Clark of Monroe, who was quickly elected as superintendent of the state school for the blind at Janesville. This action was in accordance with the opinion of the attorney-general on the effect of the law passed by the last legislature requiring the appointment of a woman on the board of control. Dr. Almah J. Frisby, a member of the board of university regents, was appointed as the feminine member of the board of control.

At Head of Janesville School. One of the first actions of the board was to elect Harvey Clark as superintendent of the Janesville school for the blind and Mrs. Harvey Clark as matron. They are both considered exceptionally well qualified for the positions which they have been elected to fill.

Mr. Clark is a graduate of the Wisconsin university, where he carried off many honors as a student and secured the degrees of B. L. and L. L. D. He was elected for two terms as district attorney of Green county; he was appointed as a member of the board by Gov. La Follette, and in that capacity has earned the recognition of one of the hardest working men that has occupied a position upon the board. He brought to the administration of the office not only a deep sense of the obligations that it imposed to conduct the institutions from a financial standpoint of view in a manner which would be a saving and a benefit to the state, but also a sympathy with the inmates of the state institutions which is necessary to the successful conducting of these institutions. All who have had occasion to know the work done by Mr. Clark upon the state board of control recognize his ability and are confident that he will successfully manage the institution for the blind. He is not only well equipped from an educational point of view, but he has also the business experience, which will insure success and economy.

Mrs. Clark, the new matron for the institution, is well known in this

The excitement in the country districts is not allayed, but seems to have grown more acute with the discovery of cases at other points.

A train load of passengers on the Iron Mountain road has been held up in Concordia parish, removed from any habitation. The passengers have sent many telegraphic protests to the railroad commission, declaring that they have neither food nor water, and that nothing has been done to relieve them. Efforts are being made to move the train.

Guard Against Infection.

Monroe, La., with fever on three sides, has put militia and armed citizens on every road leading into the town. New Iberia, La., has put a curfew law into effect. Columbus, Miss., has decided to guard against infection by the use of rifles. Many of the smaller towns are passing mosquito ordinances.

Secretary Shaw wired Gov. Blanchard at Baton Rouge in reply to the telegram complaining of the action of the revenue cutter Winona in assisting Mississippi to enforce the yellow fever quarantine against Louisiana.

The secretary's telegram stated that the revenue cutter was assigned to the duty of assisting in the enforcement of the quarantine as authorized by law, and asked if this law had been violated.

Protects Louisiana Vessels.

Gov. Blanchard ordered Naval Commander J. W. Postwick to take his brigade to the state border and prevent any interference by Mississippi guards with vessels in Louisiana waters.

Two squads of men were sent to the oyster commission schooner Majestic, lying in Bayou St. John, and which had been prepared. The Majestic is one of the five vessels which will be used by the naval brigade.

Gov. Blanchard wired the sheriffs of St. Bernard, Plaquemine, and Orleans to arrest all armed Mississippi boats found in Louisiana waters and present the evidence immediately to the grand juries, which he has asked the district attorneys to hold in readiness.

city. She taught school here for a number of years. She was employed in the first ward school and many will remember the general regret which was expressed when Miss Perella Hickock resigned from the teaching force of the Madison schools. She is a good musician. She has a sympathetic nature and has the faculty of winning and holding the confidence of children.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark will make arrangements immediately to take charge of the institution at Janesville and will move there in a week or two. The salary of the superintendent of the school for the blind is $2,000 per annum and of the matron $500 per year.

GIRL ELOPES WITH AN EX-CONVICT

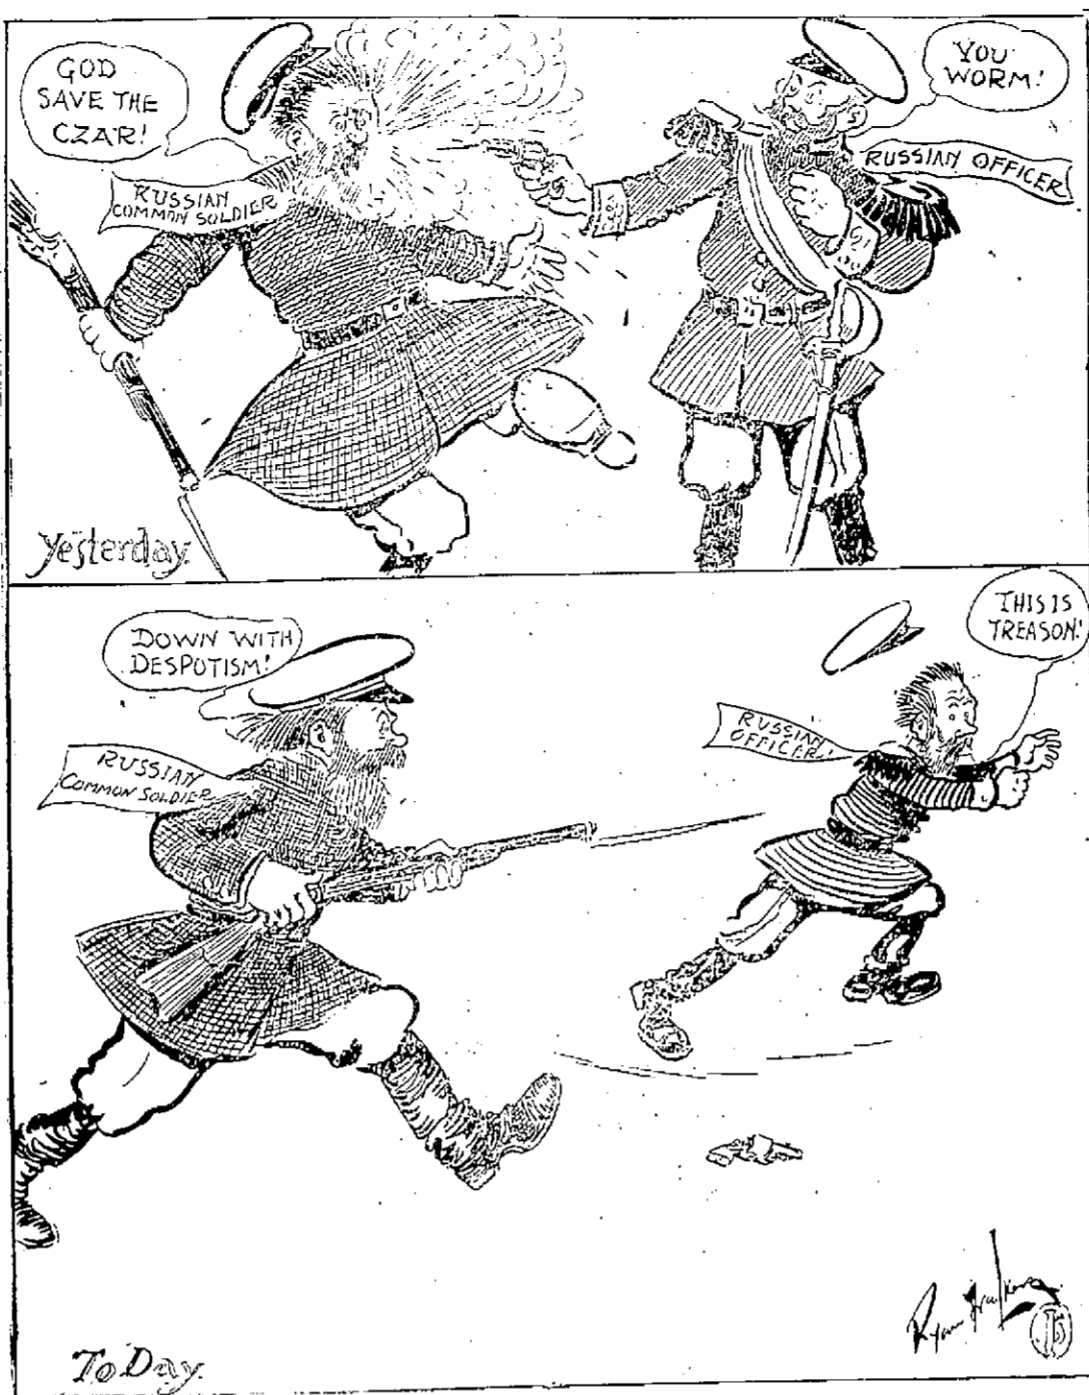

Fifteen-Year-Old Miss of Kenosha, Wis., Is Betrayed by Rogue Three Times Her Age.

Kenosha, Wis., Aug. 4.—A sad development to an elopement came to pass here when 15-year-old Mary Rummel, daughter of William Rummel, a farmer living near Geneva Junction, discovered that the man who had won her confidence not only had deserted her, but that he is an ex-convict.

The child eloped Monday, July 31 with Fred Lichtenfeller, a Kenosha man, recently released from the state's prison, where he served a term for wife abandonment. He brought the girl to Kenosha and left her in care of his parents. The girl had been willing to go on with the ceremony despite the fact that her suitor was thirty years her senior. When she was taken to the justice court and told the man's record, she cried bitterly. Her father, who came for her and took her home, says Lichtenfeller possessed a peculiar influence over his daughter.

If Lichtenfeller can be found, he will probably be prosecuted. He has a long police record.

PROSPECTS FOR THE PEACE SETTLEMENTS

The Outlook to the Observer Is Not Bright—Both Sets of Envoys Here.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Washington, August 4.—Now that both the Russian and Japanese plenipotentiaries have arrived in the United States and are to meet formally tomorrow at the introduction of President Roosevelt, the chief topic of discussion here is what are the prospects for peace. The general expression of opinion seems to agree that the peace prospects depend largely on the spirit in which the Japanese delegates discharge their task and also upon the extent of their powers. No doubt, however, is expressed regarding the fact that Baron Komura has been given the widest latitude by his government in conducting the negotiations. Nothing that has occurred recently in Europe can effect remotely or indirectly the problem which the plenipotentiaries have to deal with, it is announced. This statement gives satisfaction and hope in the light of the recent meeting of the Kaiser and Czar.

CHAMPIONSHIPS FOR THE BEST ATHLETES

Portland, Oregon, the Scene of a Great Gathering of Best Athletes.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Portland, Oregon, August 4.—Some of the most noted athletes in the United States started in the annual track and field championships of the American Amateur Union of the United States, which began here today and will continue throughout tomorrow. Many officials of the A. A. U. are here conducting the championships. Among them are James E. Sullivan, secretary and treasurer of the National organization; Walter H. Linger, President of the Central Association, and others. Teams from New York, Boston, Chicago, Milwaukee, San Francisco and other large cities are among the contestants.

CANADIAN HENLEY IS AT ST. CATHERINES

Twenty-Fifth Annual Regatta of the Canadian Association is Being Held.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] St. Catharines, Ont., August 4.—The twenty-fifth annual regatta of the Canadian Association of Amateur Oarsmen which began here today, had an enthusiastic send off. The list of events includes twelve contests, the distance in each being 550 yards straightaway. Today will be given over to trial heats, with the finals tomorrow. All the races represent Canadian championships and the prizes for the challenge cup and gold medals.

Keep Tabby at Home.

If you want a cat to stay at your home, rub its paws on the stove, is an old superstition.

POPE OBSERVES HIS SECOND ANNIVERSARY

Pope Pius the Tenth Commemorates His Election to the Papacy.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Rome, August 4.—The second anniversary of the election of Pope Pius X. to the chair of St. Peter

POPE PIUS X was observed at the Vatican today. At 5:30 this morning His Holiness celebrated high mass. It is understood that the Pope is heartily tired and sick of the political wrangling with which he has had to contend since his elevation to the head of the Roman Catholic Church.

ENGLAND AGAINST AN AMERICAN TEAM

Two Days' Cricket Game Between English and American Teams Starts Today.

New York, August 4.—A two days' game between the team representing the Marylebone Cricket Club, of London, and the team of the Metropolitan District Cricket League was begun here today. The English team represents some of the best players of Oxford and Cambridge universities, who will meet strong opposition from the Americans. After the games here, the English teams will go for a tour of the leading cities and also play in Montreal.

THE LID IS OFF NOW AT SARATOGA TRACKS

New York York Resort Is Running in a Wide Open Manner—Many Gamblers There.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Saratoga, N. Y., August 4.—The racing season is only four days old, yet there are unmistakable evidences of the fact that "the lid is off" and the season will be a gay one for the gamblers. The gambling contingent from the sporting centers of the country is not readily expected to be in full force tomorrow and Saratoga will be the paradise of rollers this year. Gambling in various forms has been indulged in here for more than a century by visitors to the American Spa and undoubtedly will be continued for the next hundred years by those who love the excitement of games of chance, lid on or lid off. Meanwhile the officials are professing to keep a vigilant eye upon the well-known clubs in the effort to suppress the vice.

GALVESTON GOING TO OYSTER BAY

Big Warship Will Be Close at Hand During the Coming Peace Conference.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Oyster Bay, N. Y., August 4.—This little village is filled with an air of expectancy because of the arrival of the Russian and Japanese envoys here tomorrow. Every available craft has been hired to go out to see the yachts which will bear the plenipotentiaries. This evening the United States cruiser Galveston arrives here and the Mayflower and the Dolphin will be conveyed to Portsmouth by the cruiser after the peace delegates have been introduced by President Roosevelt on the Mayflower tomorrow. It is expected that both parties will require time in the intervals between their arrival to communicate with their governments. Time will also be allowed between the sessions of the conference for the same purpose. Tomorrow the peace envoys will arrive here on the battleships Galveston and Tacoma, these ships, with the Galveston under the command of Admiral Sigbee, having been placed at the disposal of the delegates.

RUSSELL SAGE HAS A BIRTHDAY TODAY

Is Now Eighty-Nine Years of Age—Spends the Day at His Home, Away from Work.

New York, August 4.—Russell Sage, the oldest financier in Wall street, celebrated his eighty-ninth birthday, and for the second time in the memory of his oldest associate Mr. Sage did not spend his anniversary working at his office. Instead he enjoyed a quiet chat with friends in the veranda of his Long Island summer home. Mr. Sage received the usual greetings from his fellow directors and financial associates, who either telegraphed or wrote their congratulations. Probably no one but Mr. Sage knows what his income is from stock and bond investments, but as his fortune is estimated at $75,000,000, his total income must be no less than $2,000,000 a year. As his living expenses have never exceeded $25,000 a year, it is clear that his fortune has been increasing at a rapid rate.

RUSSIANS SURRENDER TO JAPS

Reports From Tokio Say Bulk of Garrison of Sakhalin Yielded.

Tokio, Aug. 4.—The bulk of the Russian garrison of Sakhalin Island surrendered to the Japanese July 31. The civil administration staff will leave for the island of Sakhalin Aug. 6 and establish headquarters at Alexandrovsk.

An unofficial report has been relayed to the effect that Gen. Linvitch's first army is disposed near Chungmun; that the second army holds the Fenghua-Pemienchen line, and that the third army occupies positions in the vicinity of Tooma. Bodies of cavalry protect the extremities of either wing.

It is reported that the Russians are gradually strengthening the forces south of the Tumen river in northern Korea. The total number of men is estimated at 22,000.

SALIENT POINT IN PROCEEDINGS

Evident Intention Of Japan To Hold On To Manchuria Now That They Hold It.

WITTE WILL ASK TERMS OF PEACE

Japanese Expect That This Will Be The First Question Asked By The Russian Envoys At The Meeting.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-MORAN.]

New York, Aug. 4.—Japan has apparently a fixed and firm determination not to relinquish her hold on Manchuria, no matter what contingencies may arise as a result of the pending peace negotiations. At least this is the construction put on the hasty and secret preparations now going forward for the building of an extension of the railroad which extends now from Fusan, on the southeast coast of Korea, to Seoul, and which it is planned to take across the Yalu for 150 miles into Manchuria, joining the Chinese Eastern railway probably at Liao Yau.

Rush Orders for Material. Rush orders have been placed in the last few days with American firms and corporations for the material for the road. This material includes 350 steel bridges, 150 locomotives, and 2,000 cars.

The striking feature of the enterprise is the secrecy that has been observed in placing the orders, and for the delivery of the bridges and rolling stocks at the point nearest to that where they will be used.

Delivery is to be made overland, and although the saving in time can hardly exceed three weeks, a three-fold outlay in the way of freight bills seems not to have deterred the Japanese government from adopting that method of transportation.

The United States Steel corporation has been given the contract for the 350 bridges, mostly small structures, the cost totaling $500,000, while the Baldwin locomotive works has the contract for the 150 locomotives of the small, narrow-gauge type. The locomotives will cost $2,235,000. The cars ordered are to be of steel, there being two contracts awarded, each for 1,000 cars, the total cost being $2,000,000. About half of the material contracted for will be shipped over the Great Northern railroad to Seattle, and the rest will be taken over the Northern Pacific to Tacoma. From these ports the material will be transported to Yokohama.

Will Ask for Terms. When the Russian and Japanese envoys begin their conference at Portsmouth next week, on a day yet to be fixed, the first action of M. Witte, after preliminaries are over will be to ask for an outline of the Japanese terms as a basis of discussion. Upon the reply to this request will depend the continuance of the negotiations.

This is the explanation of the apparently radical utterances of the Russian peace commissioner since his appointment, and it is also the explanation of his repudiation of the way in which these utterances have been interpreted and extended.

Baron Komura had plenty of time to read the official statement given out by M. Witte upon his arrival, so his secretary, Mr. Sato, was thoroughly prepared to give his own personal opinion of it with the usual understanding that he was not voicing the views of Baron Komura. Mr. Sato said:

Mr. Sato Gives Opinions. "It is a very good statement, indeed, very generous in its reference to my country."

"Do you think now that M. Witte has only to inquire about terms to see if a basis for peace negotiations can be established?"

"I think now that is not so," replied Mr. Sato, smiling. "I should think now that he means his first duty will be to find out our terms, and when he has done so he will have full power to proceed. The other reports were misleading. What he meant was that no basis had been agreed on beforehand, and naturally he would have to find out our terms before he could consider them."

"Of course, Russia could have asked for our terms before sending her envoy, but she did not do so. As her envoy suggests, this was probably because of the courteous invitation of your president, which Russia and Japan both accepted without any preliminaries. There is nothing in the statement of Russia's envoy to suggest that he has not full powers."

"So you think that Japan's terms are too strong for Russia to accept?"

"No, I don't think so."

The conversation then turned to a general discussion of the cost of the war and the indemnity likely to be asked. Mr. Sato said that in round figures the war had cost 2,000,000 yen a day, and that the war had continued since Feb. 9, 1904.

"Do you mean that Japan should ask $500,000,000 indemnity, then?" he was asked.

"I did not say so, but it is usual to ask more than the actual cost of war, is it not?"

INSANE PRIEST ON ROCKEFELLER LAWN

Chicago Prelate Visits Tarrytown, N. Y., Rides in Hack All Night, and Finally Is Arrested.

Tarrytown, N. Y., Aug. 4.—A priest who said his name was Father Heenebury, but who was afterward identified as Father Kennedy of Chicago, was taken into custody here by the police and later turned over to the care of Father McKenna of St. Teresa's Catholic church. He was apparently insane.

Father Kennedy came to Tarrytown Wednesday night, engaged a hackman and drove all over town, apparently without any destination. At 1 o'clock he secured another hackman and wanted to be driven to Mrs. J. S. Delmar's place. Mrs. Delmar is a wealthy woman and had known Father Kennedy in Chicago. What became of him until morning is not known.

He applied early Thursday at the West End livery stable for a three-seated rig. He started out with a boy and after he had gone a short distance he put the boy out and drove off alone. Then he went to William Rockefeller's beautiful estate and drove over all the lawns. He afterward said that the negroes wanted to kill him. He was searching for a Mme. Yale.

When he returned to the stable he excited considerable commotion by throwing one of the boys out of the wagon. Then the proprietor went for the police.

FIGHT AGAINST THE MORMON CHURCH

Roosevelt Will Have His Hands Full to Decide Several Momentous Points.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Oyster Bay, August 4.—One of the very first things to be taken up by President Roosevelt after the complicated etiquette attendant upon the introduction of the peace delegates is over will be the number of letters which are pouring in upon him daily, demanding the removal of William A. Richards, commissioner of the land office. The complaints against Mr. Richards grow out of the fierce rivalry among Gentiles and Mormons over the Utah Indian Lands that are to be opened for settlement next month. Registration for the drawing began last Tuesday and the Gentiles insist that the Mormons are trying to discourage "homesteaders" from other states from registering by giving the Mormons residing in Utah, Wyoming and Idaho the advantage. Certain statements recently issued by Commissioner Richards recently intimating that the land is not so valuable as might be represented are construed by certain Gentiles as officially aiding the Mormons, for which reason Mr. Richards' official head is demanded. Should there be a Gentile-Mormon clash, Federal troops will be sent to the points of registration.

MUCH TRUTH IN HUMOR AND FUN

COPE'S LECTURE ON "THE RELIGION OF LAUGHTER,"

QUARTETTE'S LAST CONCERT

Lecturer "Goes After" the Gossips and Pious Faced Persons—Laugh and Be Happy.

(By Clarence Van Bynum.)
Gazette Headquarters, Chautauqua Grounds.—Last evening's rain, though it caused the dust on the grounds and gave new life to the half-deadened grass around the tents, was alone responsible for the crowd of about five hundred and fifty instead of fifteen hundred. Herbert Leon Cope furnished the principal portion of the entertainment and left with the audience a few more thoughts on the subject of laughter. The Chicago Lyceum Ladies' Quartette rendered their last concert here and their program was lengthened by the loud applause each number received. A few selections, given before, were repeated as encores at request. Following is the program given:

"Charming Fellow".....Molloy

Religion of Laughter.

Herbert L. Cope's lecture on "The Religion of Laughter" was full of truths, stated and strengthened by stories and impersonations. His central thought was: "Don't Lose Your Temper." In part he said: A good hearty laugh is God-given and religious for it makes you and others happy. The first miracle that Christ ever performed was at a marriage so that the fun might go on without abatement. In the church where there is plenty of fun and laughter, the members are happy and there are no church rows and God himself must enjoy a good joke or some of you would not be here tonight. You cannot only have fun any place but in any vocation. The city people laugh at the "rube," his seeming dumbness and peculiarities, but he has the greatest right to laugh at the world for the great men of the business and governmental world all come from the farm. When an opportunity to lose your temper comes just laugh and to say that you are not headed but get over it soon is the meanest and most nonsensical of excuses. A lost temper is worse than drunkenness for the very blood in your veins is poison and if you have not committed murder yet it is because your temper has not carried you far enough. He conquers who conquers himself.

Meanest Tribe on Earth.

The greatest trouble is that we misjudge others. Women are far better than men and the prayers of mothers and wives have been the inspiration of many a truly great man's greatest deed. Women are the sweetest, holiest and most beautiful creatures on earth, but when pushed down they are the vilest and most devilish. It is not simply being good but also doing good that constitutes Christianity in man. To attend three church services on Sunday and one during the week and carry a pious look is not doing good. The meanest tribe that walks the face of the earth is that of the female gossip, who works under the semblance of "being good." She is the mad dog and vulture of society. For the men who stand on the street corners, usually near a muddy cross walk, and gossip about the women that pass, hell is too warm and good, they should be spliced on the north pole and abandoned. If we would not publicly express every thought we had better keep "our dirty old rotten mouths" shut. Good hearts, laughs are not society "leo hees," nor silly girls "pooh-hoo" giggles, nor vulgar "haw haws," all which would be out of place in the home and home, the center of the universe, is the place for the greatest amount of laughter. Mr. Cope completed his lecture with a humorous song, and though he said the Lyceum Bureau did not book him as a singer, he was one of the great singers. Miss Lulu M. Jones played the accompaniment. The quartette sang and played the rest of the Chautauqua and played the accompaniment for Mr. Middleton of the Hearns Sisters' company, for Miss Richards and others.

BOBBING OF THE LIGHTS.

The Lyceumite: Here is a new way for the man on the platform to knock out the roar of the patter of the raindrops on the Chautauqua auditorium roof: At Fort Smith, Ark., Dr. Roland Dwight Grant faced a large audience and a larger storm. 'Twas impossible to be heard, and it was suggested that he give up. But the Doctor made a megaphone of still cardboard and through it his voice was heard above the storm.

Mrs. Joshua Foster and Mrs. W. D. Harmon of Beloit were visitors at the Chautauqua grounds yesterday, being the guests of relatives in the city.

The auditorium tent was last evening converted into a large luncheon parlor, the rain driving the hundreds who brought supper with them from the hillside surrounding, where many have every day been enjoying two meals during the Assembly.

Parents may be checked now at the refreshment tent.

In the absence of Dr. Grant, Rev. H. M. Vaughan presided yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Hawkins, secretary of the Belvidere Y. M. C. A. was a visitor yesterday at the grounds, being a committee of one representing the business men of Belvidere to make final arrangements with Dr. Grant for the repetition of his course of lectures on creation which he is delivering here. Dr. Grant gave the course in Belvidere during their Chautauqua recently.

The Chicago Lyceum Ladies' Quartette left today for Rushville, Indiana, where they will appear at a Chautauqua. Their full time until September 10 will be taken up with Assembly work and then they will commence on the regular winter lecture course singing. Among other cities they will visit before then will be Shelbyville, Indiana, and Sycamore, Illinois.

FASHION NOTES

A NEW PINK.

The most delicate of the rose tints yet seen this season has just been introduced by one of the smart French couturiers under the name of pearl pink. To say that it has the soft, lustrous glow of the pink pearl is but to pay meagre homage to its beauty, yet it is certain that no words can describe the exquisite faintness of this tint, especially as it appears in the filmy, semi-transparent fabrics of the season.

This is a season of beautiful colorings and among the leaders from the start has been porcelain blue, neither light nor dark, but "just so," as one writer has said. When there is seen a great deal of crushed strawberry, rose vieux and violet running the entire gamut of tones, from faintest mauve to deepest plum.

A bolero effect is outlined prettily on a bodice of pearl pink silk. To this and lace is used and there are two shades, a rich cream and pure white, the latter outlining the edges of the former. The skirt of the dress is tucked over the hips. There is a deep ruffle at the knees, also tucked in groups and trimmed with bands of the lace put on in Grecian squares.

The bolero in laid in tiny tufts back and front, but at the front the tufts are released below the bustline to give a blouse effect. The lace is stitched across the front of the bodice simulating a bolero and crossed a la fishu at the center. A deep circle of rose satin confine the waist and the costume is finished with a delicate pink straw upturn and indented at the back, with the indentations filled with small pink roses and pale blue velvet ribbon.

A new style in lingerie costumes shows quite a novelty in the way of a cape of embroidered linen, with long stole ends which are a continuation of turned back revers, but as yet it has met with uncertain favor. It is a great mistake to suppose that the shirt waist frock is out of date; as a matter of fact, it is only the name that is past. The severe shirt waist blouse has lost prestige, but the simple blouse and skirt costume of linen, plume, lawn or foulard that has been incorrectly ranked under the shirt waist frock head, is still with us.

The daintiest of sheer frocks for summer wear are made with deep ruffles ornamented with insertions of lace, the round waists being draped in all sorts of pretty ways. A frock of almost Puritanical simplicity is made of cream-white mull and trimmed with wash net and lace. The skirt has a deep knee flounce put on with a two-inch heading of but shirred closely at the base. The blouse has lace insertion set in oval designs about a shoulder yoke, with tufts between the lace. A girle of white taffeta is the only other decoration on the model. No summer wardrobe seems to be complete with a dotted muslin, and with these dresses are worn belts of ribbon with long ends in front, a bit to one side, while similar arrangements of ribbon tied about the elbows add to their charm.

A quaintly smart bolero which might be worn with almost any skirt of sheer material is of white embroidered linen made in three sections, like capes with buttonholed edges. The lowest cape comes nearly to the waist in the back, while in the front the three sections are continued in stole ends stretched one upon the other. With the bolero is worn a white linen belt with position ends which are likewise outlined with buttonhole stitch.

The white linen belts are very dainty as a substitute for ribbon girdles for tub frocks, and there are so many different designs and of such varying degrees of elaboration that one can run the gamut of extravagance in their selection.

The prettiest belts are embroidered on both the upper and lower edges, with most of the decoration in the back, which is a little broader than the front and sides of the belt. Not quite so expensive, however, and extremely smart is the design simply embroidered in the center with the edges hemstitched or finished with a "blind" plait or tuck.

VAN HISE IS IN PECULIAR PLACE

PRIVATE GRAFT TALK AMONG PROFESSORS HITS FRIENDS.

NEW POLICY A BOOMERANG

Before Becoming President He Would Have Been Listed as Are the Rest.

Madison, Wis., Aug. 4.—It is not ascertained just how absolutely President Van Hise will apply the policy of "exclusive service" which he recently announced to the Madison board of education with reference to Professor Herman T. Owen, instructor in the college of music, against whose salary under the school board he placed a veto, but the publication of that policy has provided extensive food for thought here and it is a fact undisputed that some of those who are thinking most seriously and apprehensively about it are leading professors of the university faculty. In the absence of any specific authoritative announcement as to the extent to which the rule is to be applied, opinion here inclines to the belief that President Van Hise will not attempt for the present at least to disturb heads of departments whose ability along special lines has caused them to be sought after by interests especially in need of their services and which interests pay well for what they receive in this manner. Many of the means by which professors enlarge their state salaries, even though such means take a considerable portion of their time, are looked upon as either legitimate or immune from interference. To apply the rule in the cases of faculty members who are experts, it is said, would either deprive the world of their special services or would deprive the university of their ability as educators. Some faculty members are receiving as much or more from "supplementary incomes" as from the university and would doubtless give up their faculty chairs rather than surrender their other sources of remuneration. However, some practices which have long been looked upon by students and by such others as are familiar with the situation as being, to say the least, irregular, will doubtless be reached by the recent move of the president. An example of the danger of losing the services of professors and experts is contained in the career of President Van Hise himself. For many years he has been known as perhaps the greatest authority on certain phases of geology in the country, and because of this fact the federal government availed itself of his large ability and extensive knowledge by giving him a position on the United States Geological Survey, in which position, while he was paid exceedingly liberally by the government, he did good service to the government. It is true, also, that for years he was a special lecturer on geology at the University of Chicago, receiving for this work a good salary and doing good work. Had such a rule as he now applied to a minor member of the school of music faculty been applied to his own case, President Van Hise would have been very greatly restricted in his activity and usefulness in these separate and well remunerated fields, and the result would doubtless have been that he would not have been retained by the University of Wisconsin; the only other alternative would be the deprivation of the government and the University of Wisconsin of his services, for which both were glad to pay liberally for that portion of his time which they were able to command, and the University of Wisconsin was willing to give up part of his time without reduction of salary in order not to lose him. The successor of President Van Hise as head of the department of geology, C. K. Leitch, is also his successor as special lecturer at the University of Chicago, and also does work for the government, so that if the president attempts to apply his new doctrine absolutely he will be up against a proposition that will contain embarrassing personal elements.

The enforcement of this new administrative policy would doubtless affect a custom maintained by Professor B. W. Snow, head of the department of physics, and which custom, although very obnoxious to some students in his classes, has not yet been publicly charged as being at all related to "graft." Years ago Professor Snow had his classes buy text books, but about six years since he procured the services of an expert stenographic reporter who attended his lectures through the year, transcribed them, and the result was a set of voluminous lecture notes. These were mimeographed and each year the members of the class in physics are required to procure copies of these from Professor Snow at $4 per set. A number of students are employed to perform the work of mimeographing the notes and for their assistance to the department they are relieved of the necessity of paying their laboratory deposit of $4 per semester, $8 per year. It is presumed that this matter is merely an incident of adjustment. No suggestion of irregularity or discrimination has ever been seriously urged against this custom of remitting fees. It has been claimed, however, that Professor Snow has no right under the statutes to practically sell a text book or substitute for a text book to his classes than the ordinary school teacher has a right to buy books at a teacher's discount and turn them over to scholars, either at cost or at a margin of profit. There are some examples of faculty members turning over the results of their state-paid university work for the benefit of the public. Such an example is found in the case of Dr. S. M. Babcock, the discoverer of the famous Babcock milk test, who refused to take out the patent that must have made him a millionaire, but gave the invaluable discovery freely to mankind and remained a man of moderate means. For this service the state presented him a medal of honor. R. A. Moore, discoverer of the formaldehyd formula of treating seed to eliminate the scourge of smut in oats, published his discovery abroad and has been preaching his gospel to the farmers of the state ever since. He perfected the formula, with the result that while he is still dependent upon the modest salary paid him by the state the farmers are increasing their incomes and the state is richer by millions a year. He might have opened up a seed plant for "smutless oats" and made millions for himself.

COMMUNICATION FOR PUBLIC GENERALLY

Constant Reader Finds Fault with The Gazette and the Police Department.

Janesville, Wis., Aug. 2, 1905.
Editor Gazette: I see in last evening's paper the hat thieves and stolen hats were found by our police, but as there are respectable thieves no prosecution will be made. The city has a police force to prevent thieves and disorder. We pay them for hunting these hat thieves. But it is found they are respectable thieves and should not be punished. The men that lost their hats or other people losing their belongings hereafter, whether their wearing apparel, watch, purse, little or much as the case may be, should according to this take into consideration that it may have been a respectable thief and if so there is no notice to be taken of it because the police court and judge consider them respectable. Now you fellows that are going to plunder and steal get on an air of respectability, get the name if it costs cash and be on the safe side. If you are not a respectable thief, rather poor and should steal a straw hat and nothing more, take advice, the police will round you up and the court and judge will send you over the road to Waupun. But you will be favored some more than the fellows that stole the Panama hats by having your name published in the papers.

Animals Taught to Eat Flesh.
Arguing against the eating of meat a writer remarks: "Almost any animal can be made to eat flesh. The kangaroo has canine teeth. Horses, oxen and sheep may be taught to eat flesh. Norwegian cows have been known to eat flesh. Goldsmith saw a sheep eat flesh; a carnivore sheep is now in London. Spalanzani has shown that a piglet may be made to live on flesh and an eagle on bread."

Facts for the Settler Regarding Cost and Profit of Farming in Western Canada.

In presenting the subject we have to deal with in which prospective settlers and investors are most interested, and in order to answer the questions as to cost and profit from grain growing in western Canada, we copy the following table given out by the manager of the Government Experiment Farm, carefully prepared after years of experience in the cost of producing one acre of wheat, which in this case is $9.04. REMEMBER that these figures are based upon hiring all the work done in connection with the farm. If the settler performs the labor himself then the only outlay in cash would be for seed, twine and threshing, in which case he would save nearly two-thirds of the cost of production. We have based our figures on an average yield of 35 bushels per acre (which is less than the average for the past 12 years) at a price of only 75c per bushel.

COST OF PRODUCTION OF ONE ACRE OF WHEAT.

Breaking the prairie sod.....	$3.00
Harrowing.....	.20
Seed wheat, 1 1/4 bushels at $1.00 per bushel.....	1.25
Sowing.....	.25
Cutting, binding, including twine 1.25
Shocking.....	.25
Threshing at 6c per bushel.....	2.10
Hauling to market, 2c per bu.....	.70
Interest on $10—cost of one acre of land.....	.60
One year's taxes on one acre of land.....	.04
Total cost of production one acre.....	$9.64
35 bushels of wheat per acre at 75c.....	$26.25
Net profit per acre.....	$16.61

The cost of production the second year will be reduced to $7.99 per acre, inasmuch as second plowing can be done for $1.25 per acre instead of $3.00 for sod breaking.

The above figures extended over 640 acres will give the following remarkable result:
640 acres, 35 bushels per acre being 22,400 bushels, at 75c per bushel.....$16,800.00

Cost of production at $9.64 per acre.....6,169.60

One year's net profit.....$10,630.40
Original cost of land $10 per acre.....6,400.00

Leaving a net profit of.....$4,230.40

The land has paid for itself. You have your $6,400, the cost of the land, returned to you, all expense of farming paid and a clear gain of $4,230.40. The land is now under a high state of cultivation and worth $15 per acre or $9,600. Join the crowd and go up with us. Excursion every Tuesday. Call or write us. Both phones.

Forty Years Ago.

Janesville Daily Gazette, Friday, August 4, 1865.—The plan of the Kentucky rebels and conservatives, as lately developed, is to elect a majority of the legislature, repeal the expatriation law, form a State guard to be filled up by the returned rebel soldiers, and with this force, re-enact the freed negroes. Care will be taken to prevent expatriated rebels from voting for members of a legislature which is expected to repeal the expatriation law. This may defeat the plan. Shouldn't wonder if it did.

A Remarkable Invention.—The Chicago Journal understands that an invention has been made by a citizen of that city that will work a revolution in steam engines. It does away with steam boilers, altogether, the propelling agent being generated by a shower bath falling on hot iron plates, and passing directly into the cylinder of the engine.

Two children named Flanagan, aged, respectively, five and eight years, were burned to death in Chicago on Wednesday. The mother left them asleep and locked in the bedroom during a temporary absence, and before her return the house took fire and the little ones were both burned up.

Wm. B. Hawes, Esq.,

Dear Sir: In a report of the proceedings of the temperance meeting held in the Court Room on Tuesday evening of this week, signed by you as secretary, and published in the Gazette of the 2d, inst., I noticed a material error in the statement of my remarks on that occasion.

I did not state that the Board of Supervisors at its last meeting, "by resolution requested the Common Council of this city not to grant licenses to sell spirituous liquors." But I did state that each member of that board signed a petition to the Common Council not to grant such licenses.

The following is the substance of what transpired in the Board relating to that subject. A petition addressed to the Common Council on the license question, was presented to the board by one or more of our citizens. The subject was talked over by the members of the board. It was suggested by myself that it was perhaps doubtful whether it would be proper for the board of supervisors officially, to sign the petition; but that it would be entirely proper for such members as chose to do so to sign the petition individually. Upon this suggestion, each member of the board signed individually the petition to the Common Council as I then understood.

Will you do me the favor to have this correction published in the Gazette, of this date, and oblige,

Yours truly,

WM. H. TALLMAN.

MRS. TEMPLE'S TELEGRAM.

"Mrs. Temple's Telegram" which has made an emphatic hit at Powers' Theatre, Chicago, is described as a clever farce, well staged and artistically presented. It is filled with clean, wholesome fun, generously supplied with cause for hearty laughter, and yet not wanting in that cleverness which appeals to the intelligence and taste of the auditor. The story is that of a married man, who, having been caught high in the air by a Ferris wheel, the machinery of which has broken, is kept there all night. Returning home in the morning, he enquiring to placate his wife by telling her the truth, but she does not believe him; so he resorts to a lie. It is this apparently innocent subterfuge that involves husband, wife and friends in all sorts of complications which keeps the audience in continual laughter. W. L. Hubbard, dramatic critic of the "Tribune," Chicago, said: "Powers' Theatre has in 'Mrs. Temple's Telegram' an attraction worthy of it and its position as Chicago's foremost playhouse. It is most admirably presented by an excellent company."

per cent of the employees, the cost of mining would be greater.

Open Shop.

Then taking up the question of the "open shop," Mr. Wilcox quotes at length from the commission's report, declaring that the mines should be open to all, regardless of membership in any labor organization. He points out that Mitchell's contention that it is as right to compel children to go to school, is in opposition to decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States.

These decisions, Mr. Wilcox asserts, are more important than Mr. Mitchell's logic. "While differences of opinion may always exist," Mr. Wilcox goes on to say, "still the rules of action in civilized communities are authoritatively settled by their judicial tribunals."

Board of Conciliation.

Mr. Wilcox explains that the Board of Conciliation has met with great success. "Every grievance," he says, "has been disposed of in due course and there are now no grievances in existence of sufficient merit to warrant their submission or arbitration save a small number of recent cases which are in process of adjudication. As for the demand that each employer should make a contract with the United Mine Workers covering the questions of wages, conditions of work and means of arbitration, the commission has already denied the justice of this and instead suggested that the organization of the union for the purpose of making it more responsible as well as more attractive for non-union men. Mr. Wilcox quotes the commission's report as follows:

"It should be remembered that the trade union is a voluntary social organization and like any other organization is subordinate to the laws of the land and cannot make rules or regulations in contravention thereof. Yet it at times seeks to set itself up as a separate and distinct governing agency, and to control those who have refused to consent to its government and to deny to them the personal liberties which are guaranteed to every citizen by the constitution."

No Changes Made.

None of the changes suggested by the commission as regards the conduct of the union have been made, Mr. Wilcox says, and the whole report has been dismissed by Mr. Mitchell as "based upon promises which cannot be maintained."

In Concluding his statement President Wilcox says:

"The existing conditions have, therefore, all been the result of arbitration in which both parties were represented. They have secured to the employees a rate of wages which the commission held to be proper when the prepared or domestic sizes of coal sell at $1 a ton, with an advance as the price increases, and have also machinery by which all grievances have been adjusted and which will be equally available for the future."

All Is Settled.

"The present state of the industry is, therefore, exceptional. All the existing conditions have been settled by arbitration, to which the employees were parties, and the machinery has been successfully provided through the conciliation board for adjusting any future questions. The methods of transacting business have been fully investigated and have not been found objectionable in any respect. What possible ground can exist for disturbing this situation and subjecting the country to the hazard of another anthracite strike?"

Small wonder then that the church goes on and on, the other seas with the charm of life, the other seas a drama which holds his interest as nothing of the modern school can do, and at the same time inspire him to sublime thoughts and aspirations. This play will be presented at the Myers Grand Opera House on Monday night, August 7th.

The list of characters in "The Holy City" includes John the Baptist, Herod, Pontius Pilate, Peter, Judas and Mary Magdalene. The story is the life of John and one of the greatest, indeed the greatest climax in the piece is a tableau representing "The Crucifixion," as conceived by Michael Angelo. No more terrific dramatic scene has ever been enacted or even imagined. Indeed the play is full of climaxes and spectacles far beyond the imagination of mortal man. The Bible suggests allegory, spectacle and tragedy and all three of these have been incorporated into "The Holy City."

The story is the life of John and one of the greatest, indeed the greatest climax in the piece is a tableau representing "The Crucifixion," as conceived by Michael Angelo. No more terrific dramatic scene has ever been enacted or even imagined. Indeed the play is full of climaxes and spectacles far beyond the imagination of mortal man. The Bible suggests allegory, spectacle and tragedy and all three of these have been incorporated into "The Holy City."

Small wonder then that the church goes on and on, the other seas with the charm of life, the other seas a drama which holds his interest as nothing of the modern school can do, and at the same time inspire him to sublime thoughts and aspirations. This play will be presented at the Myers Grand Opera House on Monday night, August 7th.

Clay Modelling Entertainment.
At two o'clock this afternoon the Heurons Sisters' Concept company made their initial appearance at the Chautauqua. This organization is to furnish the music during the remaining days of the Assembly and their concert will be among the popular numbers to be given. The instrumental music was very pleasing to the audience of about thirteen hundred and Arthur Middleton in his solos won a decided success. Miss Lulu M. Jones was the accompanist for him. Ash Davis, who yesterday scored a hit with his chalk talk, delighted the assembly today with an exhibition of clay modelling, cartoon drawing and jokes. His work in clay, was as well also a number of his drawing, artistic.
The entertainments of Mr. Davis, yesterday and today, were features of the week's program.

The Coming of Animals.
Tomorrow evening Dr. Grant will conclude his lectures on the study of the world's creation and development.
His talk will embrace two lectures, one of which is for the benefit of especially the disciples of Darwin entitled, "Was Your Father a Monkey?" He will close with the reading of "Gray Flowers." This morning Dr. Grant summed up what had been revealed during the past few days.
The minerals in crystallizing or forming in masses, consumed the gases; the plant life in growing consumes the minerals and when plant life predominates then the earth is ready for grass eaters. Life controls the atoms of the world and the first animal life was brought forth from the atoms of the water. These were simply the lower forms, but when God said let the water bring forth moving life in abundance, the seas were swarmed with fish. Just what caused life to be in evidence has never been discovered for it is the secret of God. Then after this age of life the vertebrate animals, for the use of man, were born and finally God made man. The story of creating Eve from the rib of Adam is simply the truth that all animal life comes from under the rib. Dr. Grant blended his lecture and the round table work and encouraged the asking of questions which would assist in the study being taken up.

Chicago, Spoke.

St. Patrick's church was crowded

Rev. E. P. Sullivan of Chicago. The latter addressed the children at eleven o'clock. The meditations were conducted this morning. Retreats for children have been inaugurated in very recent times, the custom owing its origin to the cathedral at St. Louis where Father Eugene Coyle, a first cousin of Rev. Dean McGinnity, is pastor.

ONE FACTORY
READY TO COMECHICAGO MANUFACTURER ASKS
REGARDING LOCATION.

IS TELEGRAPHED TO COME

Every Citizen Interested in Seeing Janesville Grow Should Help
the Cause.

Janesville is way down the list of cities in the state in matter of population. In other respects it is far ahead of the majority. Some way or other Janesville has not gained as much as she might have or as was expected. This is a question that the newly formed Advancement Association will look up and promptly attend to. A little careful nursing is necessary as the patient needs care.

Told to Come.
Secretary Wortendyke this morning received a letter from a Chicago manufacturer stating that he employed seventy-five girls and women in his factory and that he wanted to leave Chicago at once to escape the high rentals he was forced to pay. He did not want a bonus, a moving fund or a free site, all he wanted to know was if he moved to Janesville could he find accommodations. Secretary Wortendyke thought Uncle Sam's demand too slow for such a man, so he at once and immediately telegraphed the manufacturer to come ahead, Janesville was looking for such industries and there were plenty of good locations.

Civic Importance.
The progress of the Advancement Association is one of civic pride and interest. The census just completed shows that Janesville is in the thirteen thousand class the same as it was five years ago. It is to remedy such action has been formed and it is the duty of every citizen and business man in Janesville to help the cause along. A few good factories, several hundred more citizens, increased business mean better conditions will exist in the city.

Good Location.

Janesville is in an ideal location for the establishment of permanent industries. The Advancement Association plans to get these factories located in order to do so they must have the support of every citizen. It is not to be waged. The matter of civic pride has been touched upon when it comes to doing things Janesville is up and going. Madison has not yet been heard from in the census reports but thus far only two cities have shown a decrease in population. Marinette and Kaukauna. In Marinette the citizens are to bond the city for a hundred thousand dollars and use the money to promote the growth of industries in the northern end of the state. There are not such urgent requests made in Janesville, residents and every one is asked to pitch in and help build the city.

Ideal Positions.

Janesville stands in an ideal position in the state. In the center of a million dollar tobacco belt, the growing sugar country of the United States,
good running water, good water works,
good electrical facilities for both power and lighting. Good climate in summer and winter. Excellent railway connections, north east, south and west. One interurban road in operation two more to the north in projection as yet. A city street railway, good streets, good stores, a rich surrounding farm country to draw upon, all give the city a chance to have a boom that has not been equalled in its history.

Hard Work.
It will mean hard work for every one interested in the city. It will not be one grand display as was the Nonce
Such Bros. circus or the Pike or other events that Janesville has taken off its coat and worked for but a good hard up hill drag where all the teams must buckle down into the cellar and work until success crowns their efforts.

There is a great deal of unreality in much of the talk about the Celtic fringe. Ireland might be rightly described as of mingled Celtic and Teutonic origin, with the Celtic slightly predominating. The differences between Irish and English people are really more climatic than racial, says London Sphere.

ROOT IN CHARGE OF INVESTIGATION

President Orders Prosecution of Those Implicated in the Cotton Scandal.

DEPARTMENT HEADS WRANGLE

Friction Develops Criticism of Officials, Which Tends to Interfere With the Proper Conduct of Cases for the Government.

Washington, Aug. 4.—Conditions in the department of agriculture were discussed by Attorney General Moody and District Attorney Beach for nearly two hours. That was the first move by the attorney general in compliance with President Roosevelt's order directing him to assume charge personally for the purpose of preventing an absolute breakdown of the effort to prosecute persons mentioned in the cotton leak report.

After the conference, District Attorney Beach called on Acting Secretary Ade at the state department and was closeted with him for half an hour. Immediately thereafter he left the city and it is believed he has gone to New York to make another effort to get evidence that will enable him to make the grand jury investigation now going on amount to something.

Grand Jury on Furlough.

The grand jury has been given a recess until Aug. 15, by which time it is expected that the testimony will be submitted. The district attorney said he expected to get evidence from abroad, but would not say whether from John Hyde or some person not yet mentioned.

Although Attorney General Moody was chary with his comments on the situation, it became apparent that District Attorney Beach has convinced his superiors at the department of justice that he is doing good work in the effort to bring those mentioned in the leak report to trial.

There is no question but there will be friction between the department of justice and the department of agriculture before the cotton scandal business comes to an end. The department of justice, in answer to criticisms that Mr. Beach has not been diligent in the matter, asserts that Secretary Wilson did not advise Beach of all the facts of the case.

Make Counter-Charges.

At the department of agriculture it is asserted with equal positiveness that all the facts were placed in his hand for the sole purpose of getting his official opinion as to whether any law had been violated.

Assistant Attorney General McReynolds, who was acting attorney general until after the return of Mr. Moody, reiterates his assertion that Beach had not been put into possession of all the facts. Secretary Wilson reiterated his assertion that the whole matter was laid before Mr. Beach and that he inferred from Mr. Beach's report to him that he would be glad to have it stated by him (Wilson) that prosecutions could not be maintained.

The dispute is interesting in view of the fact that President Roosevelt wrote a letter to Attorney General Moody directing him to have Holmes prosecuted. The president in that letter assumed the guilt of Holmes, and it is a part of the attorney general's duty to his chief to see that the missing official of the division of statistics be punished.

All-Important Question.

Were secrets pertaining to the cotton scandal locked in a box in the Madison Safe Deposit company in New York last August, or were the contents of the box of a straight personal character, which Mrs. Frederick A. Peckham guarded to jealousy and successfully?

This question was put many times among those interested. Mrs. Peckham is the wife of F. A. Peckham, who is one of the witnesses in contempt of the supreme court of the District of Columbia in connection with the grand jury investigation. Peckham has refused to testify whether or not he knew Edwin S. Holmes, the disgraced crop statistician, whose indictment the government is seeking.

Mrs. Peckham went to New York two years ago as the wife of Frederick Peckham and established herself in Broadway under the firm name of the Sarah de Feye company. The lease for the premises was signed by L. C. Van Rypen, who was spoken of in Secretary Wilson's original cotton scandal report.

Last August proceedings in bankruptcy were instituted against Mrs. Peckham by Chicago creditors. She declared herself solvent. A box in the Madison Safe Deposit company was found in her name, and an amount for about $3,000 in the Lincoln Trust company.

Celt and Englishman.

There is a great deal of unreality in much of the talk about the Celtic fringe. Ireland might be rightly described as of mingled Celtic and Teutonic origin, with the Celtic slightly predominating. The differences between Irish and English people are really more climatic than racial, says London Sphere.

Oldest Ship in Navy.

The oldest ship in the American navy is the frigate Constellation, which is forty-four days older than the Constitution, familiarly known as "Old Ironsides." She was built by David Stodgers, of Baltimore, and was launched Sept. 7, 1797. The Constitution, built at Boston, was launched Oct. 21, 1797.

Real Test of a Straight Life.

ALL SORTS.

It is harder to walk ten miles than to do a day's washing, but no woman ever called a day's washing physical culture.

One phase of ambition is that which prompts a man to own a sixty-horse power auto in a locality where he can't use over twenty horse-power to save his life.

Somebody ought to write a book educating hosts and hostesses in the fact that there is a difference between entertaining people and spending money on them.

We know a man who can trace his ancestors back to William the Conqueror, and his ancestors would not care enough about him to trace him to the next corner.

One of the greatest disillusionments in life is to get all worked up over the "near to nature's heart" idea and then come face to face with a genuine old-fashioned Indian.

We know one little boy who had to contend with his father, two grandfathers, four uncles and the man that lives next door for the privilege of setting off his fireworks.

PROFOUND THOUGHTS.

Progress: The propagation of alcohol, explosives and despair.

Social and political economy: Everything is true. But the opposite is equally so.

Religion: Everything is false. But the opposite is still more and still more notoriously absurd.

Benefits of civilization: At 2 o'clock in the morning, unarmed, I should feel much more at my ease in an Indian jungle than in the streets of certain cities, the most civilized on earth.

Man, I, believe, the only beast that kills for the mere pleasure of killing. The good tigers, the brave lions, hunt only when they are hungry. Moreover, they do so in a much less pitiful and cowardly manner, using their own legs to run and their own claws to pull down their prey, without improved firearms or jungle beaters.—Piero Loti. Translated from Figsaro for "Our Own Goods," by J. L. S.

"Henry VIII was brave, corpulent, and cruel; he was frequently married to a widow, had an ulcer on his leg, and great decision of character."

"Simon de Montfort's father was a Crusader, and from him he inherited religiousness, which was very useful to him afterwards when he became Archbishop of Canterbury."—English Exchange.

AMOS REHBERG & CO.,

TWO STORES--CLOTHING AND SHOES.

ON THE BRIDGE

J.M. BOSTWICK & SONS.

White Shrunk Cotton.

For 60 days the demand has been greater than the supply. Mills could not turn it out fast enough. By persistent effort we have succeeded in getting a good supply on hand and can now fill orders for any amount. We show genuine Indian Head in soft and stiff finish, linen finish cotton finer than Indian Head, and a close woven cotton, fine, soft, firm, very closely resembling linen, the latter being 18c.

Not Thinking that you may be ready to buy just now, but just to let you know that we have it in case you do want it, is the reason that we announce that we have just received 1500 yards of a new material for wrappers, dresses, sacques, called Melrose Flannel. It is medium weight, fleeced back, granite surface, and the designs are floral and oriental on grounds of white, cream, navy, red, green, tan, &c.; width 27 inches—price 12½c. Melrose Flannel is not flannel.

Manchester Cambrics 36 inch, 12½c

the new fall patterns now.

The year 'round sale for this popular cambric or percale is so great that we never let our stock get very low. A large shipment opened up recently, about 5000 yards, including the complete range of shepherd checks, enables us to supply Manchester Cambric gives satisfaction.

Bargains All Along the Line of Ready-to-wear Garments

Profit does not enter into the argument at all. It is simply a question of getting the money out of them. One can better appreciate how anxious we are to sell Suits, skirts, wraps, waists, coats, when they get our prices. The garments are so good that women wonder at the low prices, but we must make room for fall lines soon to arrive. A chance to save dollars. Wise Ones Are Buying.
